INTRODUCTION

The Harding-Jackson Papers Addition, 1944, were a gift from Irene Jackson Wills, Nashville, Tennessee. The collection consists of .5 cubic feet and is arranged in chronological order. There are no restrictions on this collection.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Harding-Jackson Papers Addition, 1944, consists of 76 handwritten letters from Granbery Jackson Jr. (1906-1977), to his wife, Henriette Weaver Jackson (1911-1998), and his daughter, Irene (donor), while he was serving in the U. S. Army, March-December 1944. The letters begin while Jackson is located at the Induction Station at Camp Shelby in Mississippi, and then Fort Leonard, Missouri, where he served in Company C, 30th Engineer Replacement Battalion, 2nd Platoon. From there he goes to Oak Ridge, Tennessee, where he serves as a Special Engineer Detachment, and onto New York City, where he was sent on assignment. The letters describe the camps, meals, training, duties, army routine, and news from family and friends. The donor provided annotated transcripts. Footnotes identify various friends and family mentioned in the letters.
